Dear Friends of the Block and Bridle Club:

The Penn State Chapter of the National Block and Bridle Club is proud to announce that we have begun preparing for the 91st Little International. We are proud and excited to continue a College of Agricultural Sciences tradition! On behalf of the Penn State Block and Bridle Club, the 91st Little International Show Committee would like to invite you to be with us for the show on Saturday, April 19, 2008 beginning at 8:00 am at the Penn State Snider Agricultural Arena. This annual event is a culmination of the club's activities, which focuses on members expanding their knowledge and experience within the livestock industry. Our club members encourage you and your family to attend this event and meet with students who will play vital roles in the future of our livestock industries.

As a club, we strive to provide interested students with an opportunity to gain valuable experience in handling four different species of livestock (cattle, sheep, swine, and horses). Five weeks prior to the show, Penn State livestock will be allocated to the students via a random drawing. Within the five-week time period, exhibitors learn fitting and showing skills through practice and hard work. On April 19th, the students will present their animals and be judged on their showmanship and fitting abilities.

With the help of your contributions, combined with the efforts of the students, we hope to have an outstanding show again this year. The Block and Bridle Club is especially grateful to our past supporters for their generous donations. These donations allow us to present our members with awards in recognition of their accomplishments. All contributions are greatly appreciated and will aid in making the 91st Little International a huge success. There is also a $10 patron form attached at the bottom of the sponsorship form if you chose to donate in that manner. All contributors will be recognized in our show catalog, which will be distributed during the show. If you would like to make a donation to our club for the Little International, a donation/patron form is located on the reverse side of this letter. Please send the completed form along with your contribution to Kasey Woolam at the address below:
