PENN STATE ICE HOCKEY

Greenberg Ice Pavilion
University Park, PA 16802
Phone: 814-863-2037
Fax: 814-863-7906
www.pennstatehockey.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Sean Frey PHONE: (484) 942-5710
Marci Palmer PHONE: (814) 863-2037
FAX: (814) 863-7906

Distributed: Oct. 31, 2007

Icers Dominate Long Weekend, Set Sail for Naval Academy

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. – The No. 2 ranked Penn State Icers continue their road trip and ESCHL schedule this weekend with two games against the United States Naval Academy. The teams square off on Friday and Saturday nights at the McMullen Ice Arena in Annapolis, Md., with both games starting at 7:00 p.m.

The Icers (8-1-2, 6-0-0 ESCHL) are coming off their longest weekend of the regular season, in which they played three games in three days with two coming on the road. Penn State dominated all three games, defeating IUP 5-1 at home on Friday night, and blanking Scranton twice to cap off the weekend by scores of 4-0 and 9-0.

The victories over Scranton complete a season series shutout of the Ice Royals, as the Icers outscored Scranton 27-0 over four games. Penn State also improved its ESCHL record to 6-0-0, tops in the league of six teams.

Navy (5-6-0, 0-6-0 ESCHL) is coming off a tough weekend with Rhode Island in which they lost both games, 6-2 on Friday and 5-4 on Saturday. Led by head coach Mike Fox, the Midshipmen are currently on a four-game losing streak, and they will welcome the Icers to Annapolis with the intent of snapping their skid and winning their first ESCHL game of the season.

The Icers finish up their road trip next weekend against Rhode Island. They return to action at the Ice Pavilion on Nov. 16-17 for a weekend set with Liberty University.

For more information, visit www.pennstatehockey.com.